Missionaries to Malawi, Africa March 2022

Dear Praying Friends,

Deputation

Missions Conference "season" has started, which has kept us on the road attending conferences weekly, sometimes even two a week. Our upcoming schedule will allow us to base more out of our home area, which will be good considering we haven't been home since January. Even though our schedule has been full, all of our meetings were in TN, AL, NC, VA, and MD, which has kept us from having to travel far distances. That's a blessing, considering how the price of gasoline continues to rise, but God always provides above and beyond our needs!

Besides the regular meetings, God gave us the opportunity recently to share the Gospel and our burden for Malawi in a few Christian schools. We are praying that God will use our visit to work in the lives of young people and challenge them for the need of missions.

Our future schedule continues to fill up as well. When Mercy overheard us talking about the schedule she said, "Oh, No! We're going to be traveling the rest of our lives!" Sometimes it can feel that way, but we are excited that we can see the end in sight. Lord willing we are making plans to leave for Malawi around the first week of December. Please be praying with us about our remaining travels and support.

Witnessing Opportunities

Our hearts have been heavy with what is going on in Ukraine. As many of you know, we were in Ukraine for 7 years as missionaries, serving most near the city of Kharkiv. Most of the people we know are in that city or in a neighboring village. The fighting there has been constant. Since the war broke out, Jessica has been in contact with some of the people and the Lord has given her opportunities to witness to them. Pray that the Lord would draw them to Him and that they would be saved!

Family

Everyone is doing well and in good spirits, but we have all had our moments of being tired. When Mercy was asked how she felt about being a missionary, she replied with a big sigh, "TIRED!" Thankfully, we had a few days between meetings to rest so she and all of us were ready to go again!

Malawi

In January, a large monsoon went through Malawi and caused a country-wide blackout. Many roads were washed away leaving them unfit for travel. The area where we are going was significantly affected with crops and even cattle being washed away. This will only make living off the land more difficult for the people there.. Pray the Lord will prepare hearts even now to receive the Gospel!
